Dear Parents & Caregivers,

International Women's Day was celebrated throughout the world on Monday.

Charlotte Freedman and Chiara Lo Pilato went to the Young Women's Leadership Seminar at the Parliament of New South Wales for International Women's Day. They reported, "we heard from four inspirational women leaders. Rae Cooper, a Professor of gender work and employment relations at Sydney University gave us advice on how to function in workplaces mainly dominated by men. It was incredibly inspiring and we were able to ask her questions ranging from how to overcome gender barriers to including men in the conversation of gender equality.

Afterward, we got the opportunity to talk to three female members of the legislative council: Rose Jackson from the Labor party, Catherine Cusack from the Liberal party, and Abigail Boyd from the Greens party. They talked to us about the inclusion of women from all different backgrounds including LGBTQIA+ women, disabled women, and women of colour. They all gave us uplifting speeches about female empowerment and how to empower ourselves, not just in terms of sexism but also in terms of job choice and freedom of expression, talking about the importance of integrity and standing up for yourself and other women.

Overall, it was incredible to sit in the legislative chamber, surrounded by the busts of past male leaders, sitting alongside the new generation of female leaders who are all passionate about learning about and fighting for women's rights just as we are." The theme of "Choose to Challenge" and calling out gender bias and inequality is a message supported by all at Reddam.

On Sunday the Year 11 students, under the watchful eye of Ms Vince and Mr Francis, took part in the Amazing Race as the first part of their leadership camp. This year, the race was centralised at Centennial Park and Mr. Francis had them doing numerous challenges as they raced around all four corners of the park.

The fun continued at Camp Toukley where students discussed the leadership structures and portfolios into which they would divide themselves, and they came up with action plans for events and tasks they want to achieve as leaders. My thanks to Ms Vince and her team of teachers who all contributed to the camp's success.

The Year 9 and 10 Music students and teachers returned very excited about their experience at the Womadelaide Music Festival. The quality of the performances was inspirational and students reacted to the trust placed in them by being true ambassadors of the school. Mrs. Wood, Mr. Tallis and Mr. O'Mahony could not have been prouder of their students and reported that "the students were amazing and the best behaved of all the school groups who were there. All the coach drivers and staff at the event were commenting on how mature they all were. What a fantastic experience."

This week the debating teams argued a number of interesting topics against SCEGGS. Congratulations to the Year 9 team of Otto Torazzi, Ben Simon, and Samuel Derakhshandegan, who won their debate arguing that "we shouldn't base teachers' pay on the academic performance of their students". The Year 11 team of Daniel Wesek, Aaron Dong, and Jacqueline Xie won their debate that "Universities should financially compensate students who have tried and failed to gain employment within a field relevant to their studies".

The Eisteddfod entries for Public Speaking have now been submitted. If you still wish to enter, you can do so by going on to the website:

<https://sydneyeisteddfod.com.au/events/category/speech-and-drama>

Please advise Mrs Karney if you enter so you can be included in all the correspondence regarding extra coaching prior to the competition.

Next week on Tuesday sees the first Seminar Day of the year for Middle School students. The concept of doing fieldwork is integral to students becoming more aware of learning opportunities outside of the classroom.

The Year 7 excursion to Centennial Park includes a geographical investigation with an orienteering activity. This program provides a fieldwork/data collection opportunity on urban wetlands alongside an opportunity to put their map reading and navigation skills to the test through an orienteering exercise.

Year 8 students will be taking part in a cultural awareness and integration program held at the Sydney Jewish Museum Education Centre. This excursion will facilitate a broader understanding of multiculturalism within Australia.

Year 9 History students will go to the Museum of Sydney to take part in a day of interactive learning and source analysis as part of their just-completed 'Movements of People' unit. It will be an amazing opportunity to engage with local, state, and national Australia's history, compare the experiences of convicts, free settlers and Aboriginal people to that of those in Europe, Africa and the United States and to apply skills and feedback from their recent cycle test

Year 9 Geographers will be participating in an educationally rich excursion to the Royal Botanic Garden. Students will appreciate the timeline of food in Australia from Aboriginal culture to First Farm, then numerous cultural groups who have settled here, to the reintroduction of indigenous ingredients into our cuisine to create

'bush foods'. Students will also conduct fieldwork to assess the changes, impacts, and management of the Royal Botanic Garden.

Some student achievements this week include:

Arabella Raetze took part in the Shoalhaven Equestrian Jump Club Competition. It was her first-ever competition and she did her rounds flawlessly, qualifying for the Interschools competition where she will represent Reddam. Well done to Bella and her horse Rocky.

Frankie Kogan had tremendous success at the Theatre Arts Titles Eisteddfods competition on Sunday.

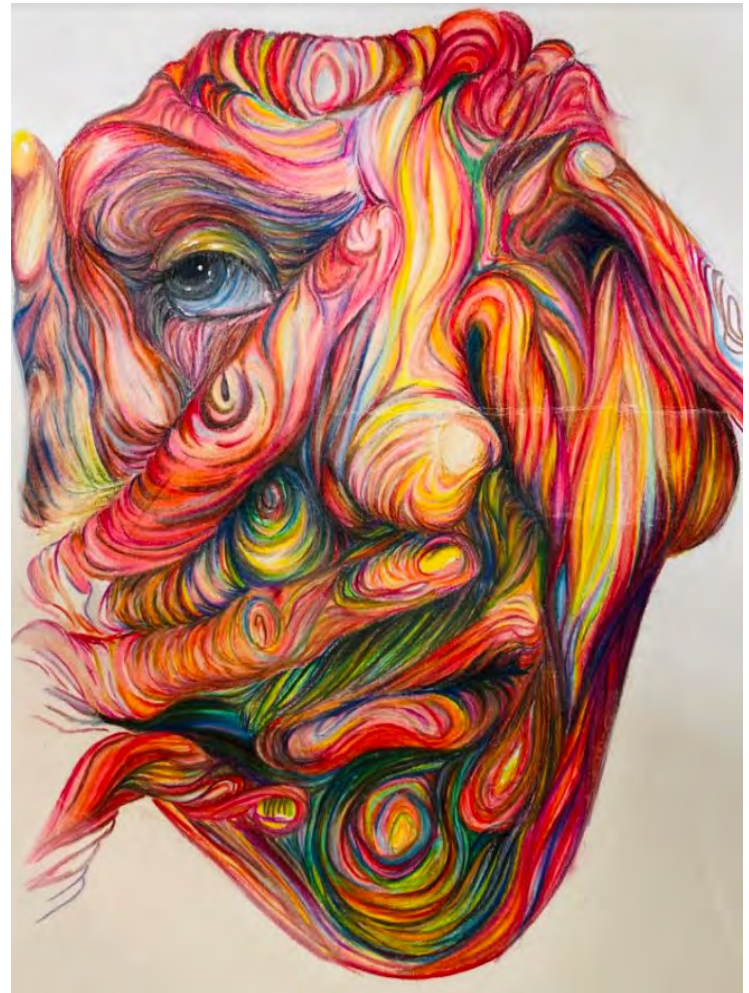

He and his dance partner won their duo/trio dance category dancing a Latin combo routine (the only thing he competed in on the day apart from partnering Janie) and were also selected for the Championships round where they received the Rising Star award.

Their performance is shared: <https://youtu.be/SVkkBFQ2vS0>

Have a great weekend and week ahead,

Dave Pitcairn

Miles Yuen in Year 10 has joined the 'All Ages Ensemble Bondi Brass'. This group was started around 60 years ago by Cliff Goodchild and is primarily made up of adult musicians. Miles has been welcomed as a percussionist and is thriving in this special environment, where he is working on a range of music with local musicians.

The cast of Beauty and the Beast have been working hard to prepare our senior musical, which is to be performed in Week 9 at NIDA, Parade Theatre. The orchestra have been preparing some spine-chillingly beautiful music, and the Wardrobe team have been making ready all manner of costumes and accessories to support the hard work of our performing cast. Last but not least, the backstage crew have been busy making props and meeting with our set designers to understand and learn how to operate these intricate and impressive pieces. CDSSA TENNIS CHAMPIONS

On Wednesday we travelled to North Ryde to compete in the CDSSA Tennis Championships.

Our Senior Boys Team were very unlucky and were removed from the competition at the end of the qualifying round, missing out by one match. Our Under 15 Team pulled off a miraculous team effort in the Final to snatch victory from Pittwater House and be crowned Champions. With every match counting towards the result, both our singles players, Justin Zhao and Justin Pamer had to battle for every point against two very good players. Going into the Doubles we needed to win 7 out of the remaining 8 games. Zac Chilman and Liam McMaster stepped up and tore through their opposition winning 7 - 1. There was one moment in the last match where our hearts skipped a beat... It appeared we had the Championship sewn up but a few wayward shots in the last game saw us going from 40 -0 into deuce. Thanks goodness the lads regained their composure and closed out the match. A great day was had with both of our teams playing some terrific tennis.
